

Lecture:

Europe's Schengen Area e-Border Dilemma

Dr. Dusan SOLTES

Faculty of Management, Comenius University, Slovakia

Professor Dusan Soltes will address one of the most controversial issues in the EU today: the protection of the EU's external borders. On the one hand, it is difficult for new member states to become a part of the Schengen border protection system; it requires great effort and investments into the latest ICT technology, implementation of demanding Schengen legislation, and various other technical, organizational, and personnel requirements. But on the other hand, we are witnessing a crisis on the southern flank of the Schengen border as hundreds of thousands of migrants enter EU territory daily.
